

DE LA SALLE UNIVERSITY

Abstract

This study looked into the level of self-actualization attained by the DLSU alumni and the values in the University's Mission Statement they perceive would have undergraduates develop self-actualization. Education and Religion plays a big part in the value system of the alumni. They perceive the values of social awareness, steadfast in one's relationship with God, and Being Christian in one's ideals as possible values which may develop self-actualization among the undergraduates.

