

Abstract

Game is one of the sources of entertainment in the world. It is continuously growing and as the world evolves, so does it. This game's main purpose, just like most games, is for entertainment. It gives the players good time playing it. It also educates or informs players about topics in computers.

The proponents developed the game for two purposes. These are to provide entertainment for the players and to educate them about computers and technology by providing trivia and quizzes in game.

This study was evaluated by gamers, non-gamers, android users, and non-android users. Based on the software evaluation, this game received a satisfactory remark in the areas of entertainment, gaming experience, and user friendliness.

Based on all the conducted research and development, the proponents believe that this game is entertaining to both android and non-android users, as well as to gamers and non-gamers. This game could help them to be educated about computers and technology while being entertained.