

ABSTRACT

Social Networking Site is widely used all over the world. One thing that most social networking sites have in common is that they connect people with each other. 'BANDS' is a social networking site that allows users to socialize with other people and meet new friends. Its goal is to create a media for start up bands to expose the talents of young Lasallians through sharing their music online. It will be a good media for expressing cultural awareness and creativity online. 'BANDS' wants to provide a new way of socializing with other people in a form of focusing in music interest. BANDS also introduce new and unique features. BANDS social networking site has a speech recognition system. It analyses the person's specific voice and uses it to fine tune the recognition of that person's speech. The site also has tutorials that contain basic tutorials for the instrument and voice tutorial to non-music lovers who are interested to learn.
