

Abstract

Computer Assisted Instruction on Reading, Science, and Math was designed for the preparatory level of Angel's in Heaven School.

It was developed to enhance the learning of the preschoolers with implement the aide of computer technology.

This study dealt with the development of Computer Assisted Instruction lessons for Reading, Math and Science for preparatory level. The software was implemented in Visual Basic 4.0. The software includes sounds, animation, quizzes and graphics.

