ABSTRACT

The purpose of this study was to develop a system called a Faculty Performance Evaluation that is a useful tool for developing a computer generated report for the Faculty Performance Evaluation for Technological University of the Philippines-Manila. It focuses on the evaluation of each faculty member at TUP-Manila.

Based from the results of the evaluation conducted in terms of functionality, content, reliability, availability, maintainability and saleability, the overall mean shows an outstanding rating. Thus the following conclusions were derived: (1) the developed automated system can be used to the present TUP – Manila faculty performance system; (2) the automated software can be used to evaluate the full-time and part-time academic teaching faculty.
