De La Salle University – Dasmariñas

ABSTRACT

License and Permit Issuance Information System (LPI-IS) is a transaction processing system which handles licensing and permit of every business in Dasmariñas Cavite, maintenance of the taxpayer's record, their transactions and generations of reports. The system provides an organized keeping of records and easy retrieval of information. This system has the File Management automation of the license and permit process is needed to cope with the manual system to automated proponents, the developer took the study a step further by extending the scope of the proposed system which now includes databanking (storage and retrieval), as well as the query and report generation facilities. The rationale behind this is the utilization of computers would be further optimized and justified by incorporating information system features than just confining automation to the level of transaction and data processing.