Objective of the Study :

General : The General Objective of this study is to know if there are laws, programs and policies for the Protection and Welfare of the Overseas Filipino Workers.

Specific : The Specific Objectives is to identify the Statutes made for the Protection and Welfare of the Overseas Filipino Workers who are working in Beirut, Lebanon.

- Scope and Coverage : The study covers the following:
The Study focuses on the problems encountered by the OFWs in Beirut, Lebanon and how the government acts and implements such programs and policies for the protection and welfare of the Filipino workers in this specific country.
- Methodology : The researchers used the Descriptive Method specifically case study and content analysis, which are techniques under the descriptive research design.
- Major Findings : There are existing laws for the Protection and welfare of the OFWs, but these need some amendments for more strict implementation of such laws. Every agency has its Corresponding programs and policies that surely protects the welfare of the OFWs. That the agencies have their own Different ways establish connection within the Filipinos working abroad and making sure that they have the so-called barriers against possible problems. The Philippine government proves that there are still pending bills help and to protect the welfare of the OFWs.

- Conclusion : The researchers have confirmed that the government agencies are really responsible in taking care of our Filipino Workers abroad. The government also proves that there are really laws for the OFWs, they even elaborated such programs and policies from the different agencies. Aside from programs and policies made by the agencies, they also assure the OFWs fair benefits. Aside from this existing laws, the researchers found out that the Congress is not sleeping on their jobs, yet there are so many bills pending in the House of Representative for more assurance of the protection and welfare of the OFWs.
- Recommendation : The Government should continue to look after the implementation of those statutes that helped our Overseas Filipino Workers. The Government should continue to make statutes for betterment the of those existing statutes for the benefit of the Overseas Filipino Workers.
