Abstract

The Build-Operate-Transfer or the Private Public Partnership is one manifestation of the dynamics of relationship between the government and the private sector. It is also a manifestation of the extent of power between them. In the said research, the Department of Public Works and Highways represents the government while the Manila North Toll ways Corporation represents the private sector. The said study shows the symbiotic ties of the two sectors and the result on the NLEX project if one will not do their roles. The said study also shows that more accomplishment or roles done will not determine the sector as the stronger sector which has a more important role in the NLEX project.
